Harry S. Houpt has not announced the drivers who will have charge of the Houpt, but is thought that neither George Robertson nor Al Poole will be members of the Houpt team. Walter C. Allen has not given out the names of the Allen-Kingston drivers. Two of the Buick drivers are yet to be named, as Louis Chevrolet and Robert Burman are the only Bunck drivers whose names have been given out. A. B. Cordner, chairman of the Brighton Beach committee of the Motor Racing Association said yesterday he felt confident that the limit number of twelve cars would be started in the race next Friday at 6 o'clock.

Announcement was made yesterday that the Simplex Automobile Company had formally entered a 90 horse-power Simplex stock chasses in the 200 mile road race of the Quaker City Motor Club in Fairmount Park on October 9. George Robertson, who won the heavy car race with a Simplex has week at Lowell in the national stock chassis competition and who was one of the drivers of the Simplex that made the American twenty-four hour record of 1,177 miles at Brighton Beach last fail, will drive the Simplex entry at Philadelphia. Robertson won the first Fairmount Park race during Founders Week last fall with a 40 horse-power Locomobile stock chassis. His car will be the second Simplex in the Fairmount Park event, as 1. Fred Betz 3d, a wealthy young Philadelphia amateur owner, has entered and will drive his own 90 horse-power Simplex on October 9. Announcement was made yesterday that Repaired tires should be placed on front wheels. Having less strain to bear, the casing will last longer; it well be less exposed to punctures and consequently will be less liable to burst. Being placed in front it can also be watched more easily. Repaired inner tubes can be used in the same way; those that have been repaired should be kept for the front wheels, where the strain is not so great and consequently the heat is less and they will be able to resist some time longer, whereas they might be unfit for use after the first mile if they are placed on the rear wheels.

Additional light was thrown on rule 19, section 8, which reads:

If the ball after having been legally passed forward and legally touched by any player crosses the goal line either in the air or rolling on the ground or strikes the uprights or crossbar it becomes dead and shall count as a touchback for the defenders of the goal.

Somebody wanted to know what it was when the forward pass was caught at the same instant it struck the upright. One opinion was that it was a touchback, another that it was a touchdown. Chairman Camp ruled that if the ball touched the post first and then was caught it was a touchback, but that if it was caught at the same instant that it struck the post it was a touchdown.

There was a discussion regarding the equity of rule 4, section 4, which allows for a try at goal after a touchdown even when time is up and does not allow for a try at goal from a fair catch under the same conditions. The decision was that if time expires while the ball is in the air it would be dead when placed on the ground for the kick, so no kick for goal could be allowed.

Another point regarding the fair eatch was that if the catcher signalled for the Another point regarding the fair catch was that if the catcher signalled for the catch so late that the opponent coming for him was about to jump for him it wouldn't be fair to penalize the latter. In such a case the fair catch is allowed, but the catcher takes his chance of being upset.

It was decided to recommend a wider

It was decided to recommend a wider definition to the rules committee, that is to provide for "knee" as well as "knees" in defining hurdling in the line. In the same rule—rule 8, section 16—it was decided to recommend the addition of subdivision M to read: "When an illegal forward pass has been made."

Among those present at the meeting were the following:

SETBACK FOR WATSON.

Vanderbilt Horses Win From Baltimore Exhibitor at Westchester.

Nothing occurred yesterday to mar the county horse show, held in conjunction with the fair at White Plains. The weather was perfect, and in the heavy harness classes some entries came to the front and broke of luck which C. W. Watson has enjoyed ever since the show opened Watson suffered three defeats yesterday, two of which were at the hands of Alfred of G. Vanderbilt. Mr. Vanderbilt sat behind his handsome bay gelding Hertes, in class 9, for harness horses over 15.3 hands, and the Fairmont Farm's entry, Lady Baltimore, as well as his stable com-derbitt geldings never showed better shad a great deal of experience with racing, but has not previously figured in twice around the clock events. He was in fourth place in elapsed time in the Briarcliff race when Referee Morrell stopped the contest on account of spectators swarming on to the circuit and received a gold medal for being one of the drivers that were still running when the grand prize race at Savannah was stopped.

In the next Brighton Beach race Seymour is to be one of the Lozier team. It had been the original intention to have him teamed with Harry Cobe in one of the two six cylinder Loziers and to have the other car driven alternately by Harry Michener and Ralph Mulford. Michener, who won a 300 mile track race at San Francisco recently, is unable to be here for the Brighton Beach race, as he is in a hospital with throat trouble. Cobe will take Michener's place as Mulford's team mate, and Cyrus Patschke, the Acme driver, has been secured as Seymour's alternate.

H. A. Lozier was able to secure Patschke's services as Seymour's alternate.

one of the most successful of the scho success of the third day of the Westchester of subtle and intimate mood delineators in the lyric field. It matters little whether he is greater than Richard Strauss or no That is a point which may safely be left to the decision of those Americans who are determined to know whether they are getting the best thing in the market or being defrauded of their money. It is sufficient for the present to say that a good biography of Wolf in English was needed, and that Mr. Newman, a sane, well poised and appreciative critic. was just theman to provide it. He has written panion, Hamlet, who took the red rosette. Just the man to provide it. He has written it was a well deserved victory, for the Van-Wolf's difficult life in a clear and interes September 24 and 25. Seymour has derbilt geldings never showed better Wolf's difficult life in a clear and interesting manner and it gives well balanced consideration to his achievements, both in composition and in the hazardous dent of musical criticism. It is the first full and sufficient biography of this writer accessible to Americans who do not read German, and it will without doubt find its way into all musical libraries.

Other Books.

A thoroughly interesting story that testifies to the excellence of Catholic scholarship may be read in "The Makers of Electricity," by Brother Potamian F. S. C., D. Sc., and James J. Walsh, M. D., Ph. D., LL. D. (The Fordham University Press, New York). The layman to whom the mysteries of mathe matics and physics are unknown may still care to know how the wonders of modern electricity have been achieved and in the biographical method here adopted his curiosity is gratified with no call for scientific attainments. The researches of Brother Potamian among the pioneers in-antiquity and the Middle Ages are perhaps more interesting than Dr. Walsh's admirable summaries of the accomplishment of the heroes of modern Columbus's discovery of America, for instance, has obscured his service to science in establishing the deviation of the magnetic needle and determining a meridian where it remained true to the pole, that meridian of Ferro on which Pope Alexander VI. divided the world between Portugal and Spain. All the men who advanced knowledge from Gilbert and Franklin to Clerk Maxwell and Lord Kelvin are enrolled here, and their lives are told with much vividness.

Another attractive monograph is issued by the Bureau of Ethnology at Washington, No. 41, containing Dr. Jesse Walter Fewkes's account of the discoveries in the "Spruce Tree House" portion of the Mesa Verde National Park in Colorado. The study of these cliff dwellings and of the civilization of their former inhabitants derived from their remnants is very complete. Dr. Fewkes as usual is cau-tious in his conclusions. "The people were not advanced in culture though the buildings show an advanced order of architecture for aborigines of North America. They never ventured far from home and rarely met strangers. What language they spoke no one can tell." It is possible that they had disappeared completely even before the Spaniards came to America. The pictures of the "restorations" show that these consist al-

F. T. Palgrave, remains as a monument alike to his exquisite taste and to the richness of English poetry. The second series, like many other afterthoughts was by no means so good, for the collector's judgment was unavoidably warped by his admiration of the contemporarie that he had known; it was an excellent anthology all the same. The two series are now published in a single volume of the shape of the original "Golde Treasury" by the original publishers, the Macmillans.

We are grateful to all publishers who will compress our standard authors into portable form. The "Works of George Eliot" appear now in eight small volum employment of clear and readable type. The page is attractive, any volume will fit into the pocket and the whole set will not take up one foot of the bookshelf. The
